Sonoma Valley Lags in Liberty Loan Drive

COME OUT INTO THE LIGHT AND SIGN UP. DO NOT HANG BACK LIKE A SLACKER. WE MUST RAISE $160,600

Despite the way we have all been stepping out this week with evident assurance that every man, woman and child in Sonoma Valley was buying bonds, the fact remains that sales have been very slow and on Thursday the amount reported was so paltry that we hesitate to tell the figures. With all the people in this big prosperous section, only 541 have so far bought bonds and some of those could take more, much more. It is a disheartening spectacle to see our moneyed people refuse to loan their dollars to Uncle Sam for this great war which we are on the eve of winning. The slackers are not fooling anyone but themselves. Their neighbors know what kind of Americans they are and when the boys come home they will soon find out the people who got behind them while they were offering up their lives on the field of battle.

No appeal should be necessary but it is necessary in Sonoma's several districts where there is a listless attitude in regard to speeding up subscription. Make it easy for the public spirited committee chairmen. Go to them or their aides and put yourself on record today.

The State Home is leading all other districts in the valley at present.

Enterprise district under the energetic canvass of Miss Eileen Cowan made a proud showing right from the start.

Sonoma No. 1 and Sonoma No. 2 have about half their quota subscribed.

Huichica has done very well.

Following are the figures in the several districts to date:

District	Quota	Subscribed
Dunbar	$3,000	$350
El Verano	21,000	9,050
Enterprise	3,000	2,200
Flowerly	13,000	6,850
Glen Ellen	9,000	1,250
Huichica	13,000	11,800
San Luis	17,000	3,600
Sonoma No. 1	28,000	19,500
Sonoma No. 2	23,000	14,100
State Home	12,000	11,450
Tule Vista	4,000	1,950
Watnaugh	14,000	3,000
Unclassified		11,850
TOTAL	160,600	96,950

Tonight Sonoma will have a Liberty Loan demonstration at the Don Theatre. There will be community singing led by Mrs. Ralph Hotz, a great war picture in which Douglas Fairbanks is the moving spirit; four minute speeches and the regular show.

J. F. Prestwood will talk on the refusal of the last peace offer and it will be well worth listening to.

At Glen Ellen there will be a big demonstration at Panerazi's Auditorium. The State Band will play. F. T. Duhring will speak and the school children will present a patriotic program. An interesting feature will be the awarding of the prize to the pupil who has sold the most Liberty Bonds to date.

Dancing will conclude the rally. It is said that Glen Ellen has so far about $5,000 subscribed aside from the State Home and railroad employee sales which are separate and distinct.

In front of the city hall in the plaza at 3 p. m. Wednesday next, there will be a High School students Liberty Loan rally with 4 minute speeches and popular war songs.

WINE MAKING IS PROGRESSING

Vintage of 1918 Not High in Sugar Percentage But Yield Is Excellent One.

With an unprecedented market for California wines and particularly the dry wines of Sonoma valley, wine makers are handling enormous quantities of grapes which are being made into the types for which this section is famous. The grape crop has been a heavy one and prices are ranging from $40 to $45 for fancy varieties. The vintage in the early part of the picking season proved to be low in sugar but with the coming of warmer weather, the sugar percentage has increased. Grape experts explain that when the foliage no longer draws the sap and the leaves become dry and brittle, all the sugar then goes into the grape, making a high sugar per cent.

The large cellars are making their capacity and all wine men report the demand big and the prices excellent. Wine which a few years ago sold for 12 to 15 cents now brings 40 to 50 cents per gallon wholesale. The East looks upon California wine as a big discovery, its merit never before having been so thoroughly recognized. The vintage season has from time to time been a glad one but this year with drastic prohibition threatening ruin to our vineyardist it is different.

Four horse teams and every available motor truck have been hauling grapes for the past two weeks to the wineries and girls and women have assisted materially in the harvest. There has been little shortage of help thanks to the splendid spirit of service shown by our workers, many of whom do not need employment but generously came to the front when their services were called for.

JOHN HEUGITT PASSES AWAY

John Heugitt of Agua Caliente passed away suddenly Thursday night. Coroner Phillips held an inquest yesterday. Bert Heugitt who is in the Navy has not been heard from for some time past. He is said to be an adopted son.

Mrs. Jennie Heugitt, wife of the deceased passed away some months ago.

Mrs. Chas. R. Potter of Schellville most hospitably entertained the Ladies Aid on Thursday.

A. Dumas of the Sonoma pool room took a bride this week having become tired of batching it. The license was issued at Santa Rosa.

Henry Burris has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Julia Burris.

Fred F. Lewis, the cattle buyer and wholesaler, has been rusticiating at his country home near the Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have made many warm friends since establishing their home here.

Dr. W. B. Hays has been named one of the medical examiners for the Exemption Board at Santa Rosa by Governor Stephens.

Miss Mildred Ranker spent the week end with home folks.

Mrs. Eliza Shepard spent the fore part of the week in the Bay cities.

Floyd Ranker, wife and baby are the guests at the Ranker home in Glen Ellen.

Among those who waived all exemption claims in their questionnaire was the name of L. F. Troy, instead of L. F. Fry as mis-stated in these columns last week. Mr. Troy resides at Boyes Springs.

SEWERS WANTED IN GLOVE FACTORY

More Help is Wanted To Keep Sonoma's Big Concern Busy.

The appeal for help which has been going out from Sonoma's new industries and is being answered, has shown that this community is waking up more and more to war necessity and community progress. The Glove Factory is now making an urgent request for women and girls. The help is needed badly and at once. The government is counting on the California Glove Company to get out big shipments for the army and the Glove Company is depending on loyal mothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts of the boys "over there" to aid in filling these orders.

It is not simply a question of making good wages, but everyone who has the patriotic impulse should lend a hand. "Carry On" is the slogan of the war and the industrial side must be carried on too. Soldiers, sailors, bond buyers and workers are all necessary and when an appeal is made as in the case of our local cannery or glove factory, Sonoma should respond with every ounce of good, red blooded Americanism.

Go to the factory today if you are not working and get in line with other splendid women and loyal young girls who are wearing the badge of honor of a war worker.

CHANGE IN THE LOCAL DELIVERY SYSTEM

Pursuant to the desire of the U. S. Food Administration regarding conservation of labor and expense in the handling of food products, the undersigned merchants will, commencing on Tuesday, Oct. 15th, discontinue all morning deliveries, but will, however, deliver all orders in the afternoon, providing they reach the store not later than one o'clock. The above plan has been submitted to the U. S. Food Administration and has received its entire endorsement. F. Clewe, F. Duhring, Bordson & Gottenberg.

Mons. Carpy of St. Helena and J. Serre, French Consul were guests at the A. Froment home this week.

FRIENDS COMPLIMENT NEWLY WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. H. Coops Given House Warming and Beautiful Gift On Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coops who are among the newly-weds of our valley were the recipients of a pretty compliment last Thursday evening from a group of Eastern Star friends. The coming of the bride and groom to their newly regovated home on the Napa road was selected as the happy occasion for the presentation of a lovely gift so the affair was a combination house warming and presentation of the remembrance which will ever be cherished by the young people.

The Coops home which is situated on a knoll in the splendid orchard overlooking the valley has been made very attractive and the spacious living room in colonial white with massive stone fire place is most artistic.

The affair of Thursday night was a complete surprise but by the time a dozen guests arrived, the pretty young hostess and her husband realized it was something more than just calls. In all about 30 came and when they had arrived, Mr. and Mrs. Coops were presented with a beautiful bronze statue "Les Victories" the work of art being greatly treasured by the recipients.

Games, music and merry conversation followed the gift and a unique hat trimming contest "for men only" was won by L. S. Simmons. The prize was a jewel case, the priceless contents of which was two tiny lumps of sugar.

Ice cream, cakes and light refreshments were served at midnight and a jolly hour spent over the "cents."

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cone, Cameron, Dobbel, J. Coops, H. Coops, L. S. Simmons, R. E. Murphy, H. D. Burmester, A. Gale, Wm. Landgrebe, Mrs. H. Johansson, F. Weaver, Whitmore, McAllister, Baldwin, and Lane; Misses Pemberton and McConchoe.

Sonoma Parlor of Native Sons has subscribed for $600 worth of Liberty Bonds, again demonstrating the patriotism and flourishing condition of the local organization.

New Store is Red Cross Shop and Opens Today

SALVAGE AND CURIO STORE IN WHICH EVERY RED CROSS MEMBER IS INTERESTED. GIVE WHAT YOU DON'T WANT AND BUY WHAT YOU WANT AT NEW MARKET PLACE

Sonoma is to have a salvage and curio store to be known as the Red Cross Shop. The great success which has attended the establishment of these interesting market places in neighboring cities has spurred Sonoma on to follow suite, and so on Saturday our emporium is to open up with tea room and all. The generosity and patriotism of S. Schocken in donating the use of his fine big store near the old Mission will give Sonoma one of the most commodious and attractive locations possible. Of course you all know, you 700 Red Cross members of Sonoma valley that you are the backers of this great market idea where you and your friends buy what you want and give what you don't want, and on your ingenuity and generous impulse in digging up things that you don't need or want and turning them over to the sales force, will depend much of the success of our Red Cross store.

The great spirit of war service which impels salvage and conservation will actuate you more than ever now that we are to have our store. Delve into everything from junk to jewels and bring it up where it can be put on sale. If there is anything you need in the second hand line, let the Red Cross store know about it. They will list your needs and some one will produce just what you want, and from all this brisk business will come money to carry on the wonderful work of the Red Cross.

The idea which has been crystallizing here ever since the $2100 auction and free market day in June came to a climax Tuesday evening when Geo. B. Ewing of San Francisco, co-representing the Red Cross bureau of salvage and shop came to town and with him Ira D. Pyle, the successful manager of Santa Rosa's salvage store, who was accompanied by Miss Blanche Hoffer and Mrs. C. L. Kopf—two Santa Rosa ladies whose inspiring work is too well known to call for further encomium. They addressed a meeting at the home of Mrs. G. H. Hotz and straight way enthused the twenty or more ladies and gentlemen present with the great possibilities for a successful shop in Sonoma. Henry Bates was prevailed on to give his time to the general management of the store. Mrs. Hotz will be sales manager, Mrs. George Lowell, cashier, Mrs. Wicker, decorator, Mrs. Duhring supervise the tea room, Mrs. H. F. Bates act as secretary. Volunteer workers in every department of the store are wanted, so come forward and offer your services. Ladies already volunteering to wait on customers and assist are Mesdames John Mohr, Julius Fochetti Jr., W. F. Clewe, A. M. Thomson, Phil Leiser, A. W. Adler, J. Fields, L. S. Simmons, Geo. Leiser, Ralph Hotz, E. L. Parramore and many others.

The Junior Red Cross members are expected to take a prominent part and also our teachers of the public schools.

Mr. Ewing impressed upon everybody the fact that the store is a great big business proposition and not a society stunt of any sort. The more democratic and cosmopolitan the interest, and the more diversified the produce and stock on sale, the more successful will Sonoma's Red Cross store be.

Start now, dear readers and begin to rummage for something to put on sale at the new market place. Take what you have to the store or send word to Henry Bates or Mrs. G. H. Hotz as to just what you have to give. There have been all kinds of contributions already—Enough to start the opening day today with a big boost. Visit the new Emporium this very day and remember contributions of produce, eats, live stock, old clothes, shoes, old tires, scrapiron, brass, tin foil, books, flowers, fruit, baby buggies, fire extinguishers, pictures, dishes, implements, and everything will be acceptable. It will be the most fascinating place in all Sonoma and will be a boon to shoppers in these days of high prices and after you are all frustrated with the great bargain rush, will come the restful repose of the tea room where refreshing Ceylon or something just as good will be brewed and sold reasonably.

Remember, today is the opening day of Sonoma's Red Cross Store, Schocken's building near the old Mission. Let us all get busy now and help make record sales this coming week.

Extremest Not For Governor

IF THERE IS A DOUBT in the mind of any voter as to whom he should vote for when it comes to the election of governor, let him or her ask the question, if a reformer is a desirable head of a state like California and if the present governor were not an extremist, why did he announce himself a "bone dry" candidate—a wholly unnecessary performance—but going to show that the prohibition obsession had him so completely, that it loomed up to the exclusion of every thing else. Such a man would follow blindly the dictates of a conscience colored by the fallacies of prohibition.

California is entitled to a normal brain in its chief executive. We believe Theodore Bell is so endowed and would be a reasonable, clear visioned governor, acting calmly and justly for the interests of all the people whereas his rival, Wm. D. Stephens would act for the "drys" whose disciple and spokesman he is. All the people are entitled to representation.

No faction would suffer because of Bell's election. He does not set himself up as the candidate of a class. He would give wets and drys, rich and poor, employer and employee, all an even break. That is the kind of a man who should be governor of a great state like California. Bell is a Democrat, is of President Wilson's party and also of his patriotic fibre. We should not have any internal discord and dry propaganda ructions in this state if they can be avoided. Governor Stephens election would invite more fomentation of the prohibition question.

How To Prevent Bank Looting

THE OCCURENCE in our own county of bank looting and financial crash through the wilful manipulation and dishonesty of trusted Santa Rosa bankers has set people to wondering if such things can be prohibited and if our laws are adequate enough which deal with the investigation and perusal of the business of banks and bankers. We opine that they should be, since there has been slanders of legislation on the subject but we would suggest that once the jobs are created for inspectors, examiners and official investigators, that these jobs be filled by competent men of affairs instead of job seekers and politicians. The system for such important work as filling these important posts should be more after the manner of the drafting and commandeering of men for big war work. The state or federal authorities should select high grade financial experts and have the power to call them for service and compel them to survey the conditions of banks rigidly. We would then come nearer to finding men who would do their duty by the public, but dishonesty cannot ever be absolutely prohibited. The deterrent effect of stiff prison sentence and punishment for rascals who are individually responsible for the stigma which attaches itself to the status of all banks when public confidence is shaken is the best protection for public and bankers. Prison bars and a suit of stripes, the contempt of ones fellow men and business associates are the best reminders that honesty is the best policy. To whitewash, condone or sympathize with individuals guilty of this class of thievery is to encourage crime or at least incubates the tendency to take a fier at practices which are at all times on the border-line of illegitimacy. Laws will never succeed in prohibiting individual wrongdoing, a high sense of right and wrong must actuate the individual. That is our best guarantee that society as a whole will be safeguarded and its best interests upheld.

Considering the vast volume of business done by financial concerns in these days of universal confidence in banks, there is very little skulduggery. There may yet be a lot to do to tinker up approved new ideas for making banking theft proof but the banker who is honest because he wants to be and not because he has to be, is the only kind who will never try and beat the game.

Banking of course has been gotten down to a science and state and federal authorities have a right to insist on a standard which is approved, gilt edge. They should see that institutions measure up to it and that the measuring process is properly and absolutely carried out. Any slackness invites a careless if not criminal tendency which may be a menace. But aside from all extraneous devices independent and absolute is the protection afforded by plain, old fashioned honesty. There is lots of it too, despite these despicable episodes like we have just witnessed at Santa Rosa. Just as much honesty in the world as there is sobriety and yet calamity howlers would have you believe that drunkards and thieves are endangering the social fabric. Existing conditions, individual prosperity, progress, development and magnificent performance evinced every where do not bear out the crank or pessimist in his view point.

TWO CALIFORNIA CITIES RAISE LAND VALUE TAX

To offset loss in revenue through closing the saloons of Redwood, the assessment of land values (exclusive of improvements) will be raised 45 per cent. This was practically determined at an adjourned meeting of the city council Monday night. The increase in the assessment rolls is considered low, as compared to other municipalities that have gone "dry" during the year and suffered a loss in revenue.

San Mateo has practically decided to raise its assessment roll 65 per cent on land values and 15 per cent on improvements, a total increase of 80 per cent against 45 per cent for Redwood.—Redwood City Democrat.

YOUNG MARINE TELLS OF TYPHOON

Earl Calderwood Who Has Folks Here Writes of Experiences on The Island of Guam.

Earl Calderwood, nephew of Mrs. Ralph Hotz is in the Navy and has been orderly to the Governor of the island of Guam. He recently experienced a typical typhoon and writes to his mother as follows of his experiences:

Mrs. A. Calderwood, 376 Twenty-Second Ave., San Francisco, Cal.
My Dear Mother:

I suppose that you have been worried about not receiving any mail from me for the last month. I wrote the letters and mailed them, but the trouble was that no transport stopped at Guam last month. The cable was cut about two days before it was due, and so they wired the transport to go on to the Philippine Islands. If it had tried to come in here, it would probably have been sunk. So I went without mail last month, and you will have to go without it next month. There was a good deal of stuff on the transport for the Fair, but we didn't get it.

We had the Fair just the same, but it didn't last as long as had been planned. The sixth was to have been the last day, but on the night of the fifth, a heavy rain came up which lasted all night. In the morning, the weather grew worse. The barometer read 29.28, and anything under 29.74 is typhoon weather. It kept getting lower and lower until at last the wind came stronger and then the typhoon. The barometer dropped lower still, and the storm got worse. Then, all of a sudden, it stopped and that was the middle of it. That is called the calm. Then it started, but worse than ever. The barometer dropped to 28.41. There are very few houses with roofs on, and many of the poor inhabitants have lost everything. The poor natives run around all day long, and at night, they find the best place they can to sleep. They have nothing to eat, but what is given them. Their ranches are all down, and they can't get native chow at all. The Government has now fixed it so that they get their chow. They stand in line the same as we did in 1906.

Part of the Palace blew away. The roof over my quarters did not blow off, but it might just as well, because the wind loosened the tin and the water blew underneath, wetting everything in the room. You think one inch a good deal of rain in one day in San Francisco, but on the sixth of this month, it rained eight inches. Nearly every tree is down. All the crops of corn are spoiled, and chickens and hogs died because of the cold. I nearly froze to death.

Take notice how heavy the ink looks on this paper. That is because it is damp. The wind blows so hard and it rains so hard that water is blown every place. I haven't got a piece of dry clothing to my name. All my clothes are borrowed—Knutson's underclothes, another fellow's socks, and another fellow's trousers. The storm happened on a Saturday. All my clothes were dirty, and I expected clean ones that day. My wash-woman's house blew down, but she saved my clothes which were all wet. I have been feeding my wash woman until the Government took charge of feeding. Where I sit here,

I can look down the street at houses without a piece of a roof.

Last Friday night, I went to bed about twelve, and it was raining pretty hard. At four in the morning, I woke up and couldn't get to sleep again on account of the wind and rain which I had not before heard in Guam. At 4:30, I heard the Governor ring for the house boy. I didn't hear him walk past my room, so I got up and answered the ring. The Governor wanted an awning down on the west end of the Palace. I put it down and came back up stairs, first finding out from him if that was all he wanted.

After a very hard time, we got something to eat, and during that time two of the awnings on my quarters blew off. The water then started to come in, and I packed stuff away as best I could and beat it. After the first half of the storm had passed the Governor called his mess gang and told them to shut all the doors. They went back to the kitchen and said the storm was over. They sat there and didn't turn a hand until it was too late and the second part of the storm came. Then they ran around like a bunch of wild men. The Governor saw what they hadn't done, and told them to sit down in the kitchen where they were before. He called me and he and I did it. He took an Indian club, and I held the door closed, and he hit the bolts into place. We did the whole east end of the Palace that way alone. Then we went to his office where his wife was and stayed there.

After the second half of the storm had gone, he put on his boots and rain coat and we went out. The streets were piled up with branches and trees and roofs from off the houses. We had a hard time getting around, but managed it together. He is a good old scout. Yesterday I couldn't borrow any clothes, so was his orderly in a swimming suit and a pair of boots and a rain coat. He asked me if I didn't have any clothes. I told him no, and he smiled. Yesterday it rained so hard all day that one part of Agana was flooded. I found people in their homes who couldn't get out. I carried an old lady and a little baby at the same time to the driest place I could find. Later I found two young girls in their house; the water was up under my arms nearly to my shoulders when I carried them out one at a time to a place of safety. One old lady died from fright and a few men were hurt from flying tin. I am in fine health, ma, and outside of a little hard luck on having some dry clothes, I am in fine shape. I guess I will close for this time.

Hoping that you are in the best of health, I am, Your loving son,
Earl.

STUDENT NURSE RECRUITING OF THE NATIONAL DEFENSE COUNCIL

The Woman's Committee of the National Defense Council, calls upon the women of the State to resume recruiting student nurses through their county and local units, since a number of States have not yet filled their quota, and there is every indication that more than the original number of 25,000 may be needed. "There is under consideration the possibility of an affiliation between the Army School of Nursing and the civilian hospitals whereby their second or third year students may have the opportunity for experience in military hospitals, either in this country or overseas."

THE HOSPITAL ASSISTANT

There is one place in the Army School of Nursing open to wives of men who are in Overseas Service. It is as Hospital Assistant; a hospital assistant being what the words imply, not a nurse, but an aid to assist in hospital work, that does not require professional training, though she will be given such training as is necessary to make her valuable in the work she will be called upon to do. This training will involve a course, covering a period of six weeks, in elementary nursing and hygiene, first aid to the injured, and dietetics, if the applicant has not already completed one of the courses given by the Red Cross. The Hospital Assistant will not be sent into overseas duty nor into the army hospitals, but into the military hospitals in which the convalescent soldiers are quartered for reconstruction work.

Girls, show your patriotism by enlisting in some one of these branches of nursing. Inquire of your district officer.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING:

The National Council again asks that you emphasize the necessity of purchasing Xmas remembrances early in October and November, in order to save labor and material and especially to save the transportation and delivery facilities necessarily involved in the large volume of Xmas purchases.

Request all purchasers to choose their gifts with reference to the actual needs of the recipient. Ask them to carry home their own parcels and so save special delivery. Wherever possible, gifts should be delivered in person rather than by mail or express.

CAPT. BOYES, FORMER OWNER OF SPRINGS IS RECRUITING OFFICER IN VANCOUVER

Capt. H. E. Boyes, best known as the founder of the famous Boyes Hot Springs has written an interesting letter from Vancouver, British Columbia, where he is now a recruiting officer for the British Government. Captain Boyes, whose hospitable home in this valley is still remembered by many local residents, removed to Southern California about 12 years ago and has made his home there and in Vancouver ever since.

About three years ago Major Manchester of the Canadian forces appointed Captain Boyes recruiting officer for the Pacific Coast. He was recruiting Englishmen in and around San Diego, the Imperial Valley and Mexico for some time and with the coming of Camp Kearney, he met many old time friends from this part of the state, among them Capt Temple Jackson, the Santa Rosa physician, and Capt. Green of Petaluma, a relative of the Cheneys.

Captain Boyes who is a bit of a humorist, confessed that some of his old friends confided that they used to call him "that blasted Englishman" but that was all in the days before the allies became brothers in the war. General Strong in command at Camp Kearney is a friend of Capt. Boyes, and two distant relatives whom he met at the Southern Cantonment—Capt Bedford Boyes, Battery C 143 F. A. and his brother in the U. S. A. Flying Corps are now in France. They are sons of Dr. A. H. Boyes of Oakland.

Some months ago Capt. Boyes was transferred to Vancouver where he is now busy recruiting and may be given a higher post by the British government as he has his passport and is ready to answer the call when it comes. He was anxious to get in the Navy again but an operation for hernia laid him up for some time. However he is well and strong again, a picture accompanying his letter showing his splendid physique as of old.

The Captain heard a familiar voice call to him in Vancouver just the other day and upon looking around was confronted with a man in uniform who proved to be Harley P. Mathewson, now paymaster in the camp at Halting Park, Vancouver. Mathewson formerly lived not far from Boyes Springs and remembered well the familiar figure of Captain Boyes.

The Captain sends greetings to all his old friends in the Valley of the Moon.

GRAPE GROWERS ENDORSE THEODORE BELL

The Directors of the California Grape Protective Association voted unanimously to endorse the candidacy of Theodore Bell, independent candidate for Governor, at a meeting held in San Francisco on Friday.

The Directors took this attitude because of the fact that Mr. Bell has always been friendly toward the grape growing, agricultural and horticultural interests of the State and has not singled out one of them for destruction.

The grape growers believe that Mr. Bell is eminently fitted to discharge the duties of the highest office within the gift of the people of California at a critical time such as confronts the State and Nation at present when ability, coupled with a vigorous and fearless personality, is needed.

The endorsement carries with it an absolute determination on the part of the California Grape Protective Association to oppose Bone-Dry Prohibition in California as proposed in Proposition No. 22 on the November ballot.

CHILDREN RUN TO SOLDIER PALS AT ARMY MESS CALL

French Tots Share Yankee Soldiers' Rations—Women's War Parts Great

By Mrs. Hazel Pedlar Faulkner
The little children in this neighborhood have learned to distinguish the mess call.

"Immediately it is sounded, they troop out from every conceivable corner, taking their places around the men, watching with eager, hungry eyes every bite that is dished out. A fellow can't eat his prunes very comfortably with such an audience, and the men here have divided every meal with these little fellows, who are the children of men saving France."

A "home-town" private, one of the Engineers who has been building railroads in France, sent that message home. He is one of the men who has been dividing his daily ration of soup, beans, of meat and prunes, with the children who are the soul of France.

WOMEN GIVE WEAT, SONS AND MONEY

American women, everywhere, and Western women second to none, have borne their part in the fight. They have saved their meat and their wheat, they have given their husbands and sons. Their money is going now. In the first, second and third Liberty loans they have invested their dollars. Opportunity to serve has come again. The Government is seeking funds. It is asking for the third of its three-fold need—men, munitions and money.

The hand that rocked the cradle is holding the purse strings in these momentous days. For their boys Western mothers will not withhold the needed gold. America has started on the road to Berlin. The way is a long one, and traveling is difficult. But the journey must be made, and the pilgrims must be equipped.

It is no longer a question of "shall we buy bonds" with American mothers. That was answered when the boys went over there. It is no longer a question of "can we buy bonds." The experience of the first three loans has answered that.

The question for Western women, in company with women all over the land, to answer is "what is the limit to which I can, by sacrifice and saving, by going without and working for, what is the limit which I can reach?"

CAN'T STOP SHORT OF BERLIN GOAL

It would be a sorry ending of a journey to have America stop short of Berlin. It is inconceivable that our soldiers should stop short of that goal.

Can you, women of the West, pause in the great task which has been set for you? Can you halt for an instant in the face of the country's need?

Will all of these planned purchases weigh in the scale with the call which comes ringing across from those plains where the boys are fighting? It is to keep your boy on the march toward the final goal that the Government asks you to lend it your utmost.

"I regret that I have but one life to give for my country," said Nathan Hale, as he ascended the enemy's gallows.

Ours is the task to save lives for our country, to save by lending our aid at its request. The Fourth Liberty Loan gives American mothers and sisters a new opportunity to make impossible a regret that they had but one chance to give.

The Fourth Liberty Loan is ours. What is our utmost? The country awaits our answer.

Mrs. P. Laurenzi and Miss Kate Laurenzi will spend the winter in San Francisco.

ARCHIE REVIE IS PROUD OF UNIFORM OF U. S. A.

Archie Revie who has long sought to get into the service of Uncle Sam, and once went to Camp Lewis, only to be returned because of his health which was thought to be frail, has at last reported at Angel Island and been sworn into the service. He now has his uniform and is proud of it as the following letter from the former accommodating postal and bank clerk will show:

Angel Island, Cal.,
Oct. 6, 1918.

Dear Mr. Murphy:

Well at last I have landed in the army. I was examined yesterday and accepted, got my full outfit today, so it is the good old U. S. A. uniform for me from now on. This is one swell camp, they have hot and cold water in all of the barracks and most of them are steam heated. I expect to be here for a week or so but don't know of course as they are shipping the men out fast.

I was assigned to a recruiting service today, so may be here some time. I ran into Al Jansen today just after the band concert. We had a short chat, believe me they have a fine band here. Keep on sending the paper to the old address until I know my permanent address.

Archie.

Mrs. Hazel Browncomb of Lodi is visiting her folks, the R. B. Thomas family while her husband is at Davis taking a 6 weeks course in scientific poultry raising.

PLANT COVER CROPS NOW!

Nitrogen, as all farmers know, is the element that most frequently limits crop production. At present prices for fertilizer, there is more than $10,000,000 worth of this substance above each acre of land in Sonoma County. The only limit to the share of this wealth that the farmer may divert to his own use is his ability to grow legumes. The rains this fall have made it particularly easy for practically all farmers to tap the inexhaustible supply of nitrogen in the air. All they need to do is to sow leguminous cover crops whenever they can.

Burr clover is probably the one best fitted for conditions throughout the county. Vetch and Canada field peas are also well adapted for Sonoma County conditions.

Sow Vetch at the rate of 25 to 30 lbs. to the acre with rye and oats at the rate of 60 to 70 lbs. per acre.

Sow Canada field peas at the rate of 30 to 40 lbs. to the acre with rye and oats at the rate of 60 to 70 lbs. per acre.

Sow Burr clover at the rate of 25 lbs. to the acre, alone or with rye and oats.

Burr clover and Canada field peas, if sown now, should grow all winter, except in the more exposed locations.

Plant leguminous cover crops now and get your share of the millions lying above your farm. You need it and are entitled to it.

County Farm Adviser

LOST PURSE LEADS TO COURT ACTION

A Eberhardt, a cook of San Francisco who while spending his vacation here lost a purse containing over $20 about the middle of August, has started action in the justice court against D. Marblestone, who acknowledges that he found the purse but claims there was nothing in it. Contrary to his story is the declaration of several passengers in Zeifmann's bus who remember having seen Marblestone pick up a purse in the road, put it in his pocket and later take it out and reveal therein a greenback, which came to light unexpectedly. It is alleged that Marblestone shook out the change but did not know of the paper money clinging to the inside of the purse until he later examined it before his fellow passengers. All were coming from the springs and although Marblestone intended to stay for a week at the El Verano resort, it is said he hurriedly departed after his good Yiddish luck.

Eberhardt, who lost his purse while going to the baths, reported his loss in and around the resorts and Zeifmann's guests did not hesitate to tell him about Marblestone's find and get away. Mr. Eberhardt therefore got Marblestone's address and with his wife went to him in San Francisco and asked him about the purse he found in Sonoma Valley. He acknowledged finding it but denied that there was any money in it.

Mr. Eberhardt therefore came up here and swore to a warrant for Marblestone's arrest, charging him with larceny of the loss of property which he never advertised.

Marblestone is said to be well to do and when he came to town to put up $25 cash bail for his appearance in court here Monday, he brought letters from high chiefs in politics in San Francisco, among them Sheriff Tom Finn and deputies in Charley Fickert's office.

The moving pictures will have nothing more exciting than the pursuit of the villain in the purse mystery which will be aired in Judge Small's Court here Monday.

Mrs. Tom Lewis and nephew left for Sacramento this week where they will join Mr. Lewis and make their future home. Mr. Lewis is with the Natamas Consolidated. Felice Rovai drove his big truck laden with their household goods to the Capitol city and took the passengers with him also.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

BY COL. JOHN F. MCCRACKEN,
DIED AT BOULOGNE, JANUARY 28, 1918.

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch -- be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep tho poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernesto Vadovi and young daughter motored from San Francisco in their swell Cadillac and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph H. Rubke at Bella Vista on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. August Figone of San Francisco were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Batto on Sunday. Mr. Figone is a well known business man of the metropolis and is also quite a fisherman and hunter.

Geo. W. Reed and son George Jr. transacted business here on Sunday and the veteran station agent of Sonoma looks fine after many years of faithful service.

Miss Mary Batto who has been the guest of city friends and relatives for the past two weeks returned home on Monday evening.

Mrs. Joseph Groskopf of Oakland who is now on a visit to her old home in El Verano was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groskopf at Whispering Pines on Sunday.

Nathan Sanford of this place has accepted a position at Adam Adlers planing mill and will shortly move to Sonoma to reside.

A straight car load of cocoanut meal and cocoa slabs containing 30 tons arrived at Batto's spur on Wednesday. The firm is also receiving large quantities of choice seed oats both red and black varieties.

The Tale of a Calf, by Gussie Gushington Chapter 1.

A calf arrived in the vicinity of Vineburg on last Saturday and took up its abode in a certain rich pasture near the Burg. Of course no one expected it and there was no brass band nor reception committee to welcome the poor little calf.

The sun was low in the west and dewy twilight was fast approaching when a weary teamster seated on a load of empty grape boxes spied the poor little calf and on Sunday morn reported the same to the committee of prevention of cruelty to calves society.

Then three wise men whose knowledge on all agricultural subjects has never been questioned, started in haste to find the aforesaid calf. They walked up the pasture and down again, across the pasture and back again. Nothing doing, no infant bossy, could they see, but the bossy saw the wise men and closed one eye and said to itself: "I believe those boobies are trying to find me but they forgot to bring their eye glasses, so I will just fool them." I will find myself. So the sweet little calf sneaked to the barn and laid down and had a good sleep. Now the owner of the calf says it is not for sale as it has too much sense.
